A Message from Father Joseph

My brothers and sisters in the Risen Christ, In the Encyclical letter Dives in Misericordia the late Pope John Paul II wrote:

“It is “God, who is rich in mercy” whom Jesus Christ has revealed to us as Father: it is His very Son who, in Himself, has manifested Him and made Him known to us. Memorable in this regard is the moment when Philip, one of the twelve Apostles, turned to Christ and said: “Lord, show us the Father, and we shall be satisfied”; and Jesus replied: “Have I been with you so long, and yet you do not know me...? He who has seen me has seen the Father.””

In today’s Gospel Jesus appeared to the Eleven while they were still in the locked room for fear of the Jews, our Merciful Lord gave them peace and showed His nail marks to Thomas. Thomas saw those marks and believed. At this incident, the Risen Lord solemnly said “blessed are those who have not seen and have believed.” We have not seen the Lord in person, but in faith we profess the Risen Christ and truly we believe that through His triumphant death our lives are restored. On this day of celebration of the Feast of the Divine Mercy, with the universal church, we trust in the Risen Lord that only through Him we are saved and through the real presence of Him in the Sacrament we come to adore Him.

As we continue to celebrate the Risen Christ, let us continue the theme that our parish is focusing, “come be fed, go feed others.” Let us come to partake of the Eucharist and go out to the community to share His Merciful love.

In Christ’s Love,

Rev. JosephMary Quoc Vuong

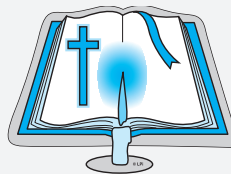

Thank You! Thank You! Thank You!

I would like to take this opportunity to extend a sincere thank you to the volunteers for the many hours they spent preparing for the beautiful celebration of Easter. It is the biggest and the highest celebration throughout the liturgical year. We are blessed by the Lord and may all your good works be remembered. Also, thank you so very much to those that sent me cards, gifts and kind words.

May God bless you all!
Associate Pastor,

Second Collection Next Weekend

There will be a second collection at all of the Masses next weekend for Common Hope and Nuestro Pequeños Hermanos.

Scripture of the Week

“Blessed are those who have not seen and have believed.” John 20:29b

So we are the ones who are blessed. We believe even though we have never seen Jesus. We have the gift of faith and the words of scripture, and they are enough for us. We don’t need to see the marks of Jesus’s crucifixion. We know He died for us, and has risen, to show us how much He loves us, and gives us hope for eternity.

IMPORTANT MESSAGE FOR OUR PARISHIONERS

Many of you received a business solicitation from a parishioner in the mail recently. This solicitation was in no way authorized by the parish and the parish did not provide the parishioner with names and addresses. We regret any inconvenience this may have caused and will assess potential measures we can take to prevent this from happening again.

Fr. Tim Morin, Pastor
Dan Garry, Administrator

*ThankYOU

Thank you to David Aberly for donating all the wood used for the watchfire during Holy Week.

Also, to Chuck Grabowski for the watchfire burner he built and donated to Holy Name of Jesus.

News & Notes

Divine Mercy Sunday

by Paul Turner

The Second Sunday of Easter is also called "Divine Mercy Sunday." When Pope John Paul II canonized St. Faustina in the jubilee year of 2000, he added the title to this day. In visions, Faustina heard Jesus request that the image of divine mercy be venerated on the Sunday after Easter, a day John Paul lovingly chose for Faustina's canonization.

Many communities display the image of Divine Mercy on this day. Jesus's penetrating, compassionate gaze reaches out to the viewer. Red and white rays emanate from His heart, symbols of blood and water - Eucharist and Baptism. Many Catholics confess their sins or pray before the Blessed Sacrament in conjunction with this feast.

A priest may use the prayers from the votive Mass for Divine Mercy on any day when a stronger feast does not conflict. The Second Sunday of Easter has its own prayers and readings, so the votive Mass for Divine Mercy is never permitted on that day. Instead we observe the much older tradition of the octave day of Easter. The Gospel story of the doubting Thomas is heard every year on this day because Jesus appeared to him a week after the resurrection. The other texts for this Mass refer to the season and to Baptism. This day used to be called Dominica in albis, the Sunday of white garments, because those baptized at the Easter Vigil wore their new vesture to conclude a week of catechesis about the sacraments.

Today the only change to this liturgy is its title: the Second Sunday of Easter, or Divine Mercy Sunday. The mercy of God may be proclaimed in the homily or the prayer of the faithful, but especially in the actions of believers, who extend God's mercy to all they meet.

Serra Program Keeps College Students Connected To Faith

It is estimated that fewer than twenty percent of Catholic college students attend Mass after their first year, Minnesota Serra Clubs will be working with Catholic high schools and parishes this spring to provide college-bound graduating seniors with the information they need to get involved with the Church while at college.

"We're the bridge that's connecting the family faith life to the college faith life," said Judy Cozzens, chair of the College Connection for Catholics program (CCC), which hopes to reach 16,000 graduating seniors nationally during 2010. Through 300 nationwide clubs, USA Council of Serra International seeks to foster, affirm and promote vocations to ministry.

CCC, which has been endorsed by bishops, including Archbishop John Nienstedt, was started seven years ago to encourage some of the 1.25 million U.S. Catholic students who graduate from high school each year to be more involved in their faith during their college years.
