"I Have Called You Friends"

By Tim Lyngdal

Several months ago I was doing a little reading and came across an essay on "happiness." Surely, I don't need to make an argument that all of us want to be happy but rather an argument for what happiness requires. In the article I was reading the author claims happiness requires resistance, a tension between polarities that often goes unnoticed. He pointed out many of the modern conveniences and technologies that have removed resistance in the effort to make us happier. Freedom for one's own sake is boring. The human experience demands a level of tension in order to flourish and pursue our ultimate goal which is God Himself. Where do we find this resistance? One buzzword we associate this with is "community." But we have plenty of community! It's practically coming out of our ears. No, the author argues that "while we may dream of community, many of us are grateful for just a friend or two."

Flash back to November 2019 when I attended the annual philosophy conference hosted by the University of Notre Dame. The theme that year was friendship and begged the question, "what is a friend?" Dozens of scholars presented papers on this topic. My favorite was by one of the premier philosophers of our time—Alasdair MacIntyre.

In his keynote speech, MacIntyre argued in favor of a nuanced view of Aristotelian friendship. He narrowed the greatest enemy of friendship to "insincerity." He describes an insincere person as an actor of sorts. That they have convinced others (and oftentimes themselves) that they are something they are not. Friendship cannot exist with insincerity which demands us to ask ourselves—who am I really friends with? Is there someone in my life that I can be really "real" with? "Friendliness" exists and while it's necessary in everyday life we shouldn't confuse it with authentic friendship. What authentic friendship demands is sincerity. It demands truth-telling, authenticity and gift.

Here's my pitch with friendship: be sincere. Who is in your life that you can show sincerity to in a way that could lead to authentic friendship? Once you've found that, then find another. We can't be friends with everyone but maybe we can be friends with one more person. Strive to meet with this group on a regular basis to be sincere together. Our Lord descended to this world to be both our savior and our friend. Let's start there.

Parenting Act II

Are you praying earnestly for your adult children? Worrying about their lifestyle choices? Hoping for their return to Mother Church? Wishing you could help them through hard times and difficult circumstances? All parents of young adults do, even those whose kids seem to be doing well!

Parenting Act II is a small group that meets monthly September to May to pray for our grown children, support each other and learn more about parenting in the empty-nest phase of family life. This year we will be reading and discussing Empty Nest: What Next by Michelle Howe, which explores how our relationship with our children changes once they become adults. You are welcome to join the group, either as a couple or solo parent.

Our first meeting will be on Monday, Sept. 18, at 6:45 p.m. at HNOJ. Want to participate? Questions? Need to know more? Contact Karen Karn at kekarn@comcast.net or 612-709-8412. Please feel free to just drop in!

Scripture of the Week

"Forgive your neighbor's injustice; then when you pray, your own sins will be forgiven." (Sirach 28:2)

Today's First Reading from Sirach and our Gospel reading from St. Matthew present what appears to be an extremely difficult task. Live with forgiveness, compassion, patience. All these things seem to be in short supply in so many areas of our lives today. How can we possibly set aside the things that divide us and get to a point of forgiveness?

St. Paul has the answer in our Second Reading - "live for the Lord." It is truly that easy - and that difficult.

Weekly reflections by parishioner Jon Hickman.

Children's Music Ministry Opportunities

HNOJ Handbell Choir for Grades 6th - 12th

We are resuming our Youth Handbell Choir this fall. It is open to 6th through 12th graders. No ringing experience required. Music reading skill are helpful. It's perfect for those that are in band, choir, orchestra or are taking private music lessons.

Please contact Dr. Owen, Director of Music, via email (rowen@hnoj.org) about next steps. Rehearsals will be on Wednesdays, from 5:15-6 p.m. beginning Sept. 20. The group will ring at an 8:30 a.m. Mass once a month.

St. Cecilia and St. Michael Choirs

The American Federation PUERI CANTORES was formed in 1953 to help spread in Catholic churches across the USA opportunities for children to take on significant and inspirational leadership role in worship. The Holy Name of Jesus Parish is now part of this Federation and will continue to spread the education of the values of Catholic faith through music and liturgical understanding. We will also employ the "Voice for Life" music curriculum of the Royal School of Church Music (RSCM).

Because of the affiliations with PUER CANTORES and RSCM, Dr. Richard Owen will direct two new groups of choirs for children: one for girls and one for boys in 4th through 6th grades. Auditions are being held through Sept. 25. Please contact Dr. Owen via email (rowen@hnoj.org) to schedule a time. Please do not be afraid of the word "audition." It is just a time for Dr. Owen to meet the family and the young singer. Rehearsals will be on Tuesdays, beginning Oct. 3. The groups will sing at the 8:30 a.m. Mass once or twice a month.

In Our Parish and Our Community

We provide dinner and both nursery-age and school-age care as well as dinner for the kids.

Contact Tim Lyngdal with questions at tlyngdal@hnoj.org. More information and registration at www.hnoj.org/bigsmalldinner.

Advertisements can be purchased for a business, family or a sponsorship ad can be purchased supporting community service organizations such as emergency pregnancy counseling, the local food shelf, etc. Please give these ideas some thought. We need and appreciate your help!
